SCNA is dedicated to the promotion and advancement of numismatics in all its dimensions...convinced that the hobby has great potential for enriching lives of those who earnestly seek its gifts. Our principal means for this is the SCANNER, the official publication, sponsored awards which seek to promote and reward excellence in many areas of hobby activity; and the annual Convention...which provides without charge to the collector, investor and general public...South Carolina's best program of numismatic education and services and the finest opportunity for buying and selling numismatic items.

EDITOR'S NOTE

BY: ERIK S. LARSEN

Greetings, South Carolina Numismatists!

Summer is typically a slow time in the "coin industry" as folks around the state and the country head to the beach or mountains for vacation. This does not mean that you can't be thinking about your collection and specifically, adding to it. Summer can be a good time to add a signature piece to your collection and find some good deals out at shows or on the internet. Often times dealers are more willing to move coins and paper money at reduced profit since there is not an abundance of shows to tote their wares at during the season and would not mind having extra cash on hand to replenish inventory. Keep this in mind when surfing the pages of your favorite auction site! One final note is a big welcome to the Pee Dee Area Coin Club as a new member club of the SCNA!

There has been some news since the last issue of the SCanner, specifically, a shipwreck of the S.S. New York was found in the Gulf of Mexico with a horde of gold and silver coins! Many of the gold coins come from the shuttered southern US Mint facilities in Charlotte, NC, Dahlongea, GA and New Orleans, LA. As my travels take me to the Washington, DC area for work often, there is quite a controversy brewing in the design of the District of Columbia's version of the state quarter set to be released next year. All designs submitted to the US Mint were rejected because of the motto, "Taxation Without Representation" was represented. Those who are familiar with the District's government know that they have a representative in Congress but have no voting authority. The US Mint's reason for rejection was that the design was not supposed to be controversial nor political.

This month's article features one of my favorite subjects, Morgan dollars. Arno Safran's article, The Birth of the Morgan Dollar: 1878 (130 years ago) celebrates the large silver dollar that debuted 130 years ago this year.

The 36th Annual South Carolina Numismatic Association's Annual Coin Show will take place this October 24-26, 2008 at the Carolina First Center in Greenville. PLEASE NOTE that this is a new location from last year and was formerly called the Palmetto Expo Center. There is an exhibit application later in this issue of the SCanner and members are encouraged to exhibit any and all numismatic materials at the show. Awards will be given for best exhibit for both Young Numismatists and adults. All collectors of any numismatic material are encouraged to participate.

Please feel free to send your comments, ideas, articles, and feedback to me at Larsen770@aol.com or mail to P.O. Box 505, Charleston, SC 29402-0505. Please let us know about your upcoming shows, events, questions, comments or anything that you may have stumbled on in the numismatic field.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Greetings to SCNA Members!

We are more than half way through the year and by all indications, at this writing, the coin market remains strong in spite of a weak economy and soaring gas prices. Of course, "investment" grade coins have continued their upward spiral - some at dizzying prices. Can there be a "bubble" in the future here? - only time will tell.

Collector coins on the other hand, seem to have leveled off with the exception of some key dates. Here again, interesting collector coins can still be found at local shows at reasonable prices. On a recent visit to the Midlands Coin Club Show, I was surprised to find some interesting ancient coins for sale. Indeed, I was able to find an unusual Greek silver piece to add to my collection at a fair price. Of course, it does take a bit of looking to find desirable coins, but isn't that what the "romance of the chase" is all about?

I am also looking forward to the ANA World's Fair of Money in Baltimore, Maryland this summer. By the time you read this it will have come and gone. I hope many of you will have been able to attend this show which has so much to offer besides coins and paper money. Large shows allow us to re-connect with colleagues that we don't often see and also to attend a variety of seminars on the many items that we collect. All of these things enhance our reasons for collecting. Additionally, the ANA sponsors some great field trips during their shows not all coin related but interesting nonetheless.

Finally, I want to invite everyone to the SCNA 36th Anniversary Coin show to be held at our new venue, the Carolina First Center in Greenville. The dates are October 24-26. I look forward to seeing you there.

With these thoughts in mind have a good rest of the summer and fall. Enjoy collecting.

Jim Barry

SCNA President

THE BIRTH OF THE MORGAN DOLLAR: 1878 (130 YEARS AGO)

BY: ARNO SAFRAN

An 1878-S Morgan dollar graded MS-63 by PCGS
9,774,000 were struck at the San Francisco Mint alone

When I was a youth, probably no older than 12 or 13, my father asked me to bring down a road map located in his top small corner dresser drawer. Alongside some of the maps I remember coming across a bunch of large circulated silver coins. I was surprised to discover that these were actually dollar coins and having never seen any in circulation before was even more awed by the age of some of them. I kept checking out the dates until I came across one dated 1878 and was astonished to find a coin so well preserved that was so old. “What’s taking you so long”, my father called up and I quickly closed the drawer and came down with the map he wanted. Later I asked him about the coins and he told me he occasionally got them at the bank.

When I started collecting coins in earnest many years later, I learned more about these large cartwheels and wondered why most of the Morgan dollars seemed to surface in brilliant blast-white uncirculated condition compared with virtually all other affordable obsolete U.S. type coins.

Then I read about the Bland-Allison Act of 1878; the law that “instructed the US Treasury to purchase between $2 million and $4 million worth of silver each month from the western mines.” There were other aspects of the law. “The silver was to be purchased at market rates, not at a predetermined ratio pegged to the value of gold” and finally, “the metal was to be minted into silver dollars as legal tender”. Unlike the wealthier private citizens who purchased large amounts of silver bullion to be coined into Trade dollars (1873-1885), the U.S. government would now become the largest customer, stockpiling the enormous Morgan dollar mintages into mint-sewn bags.

THE BIRTH OF THE MORGAN DOLLAR: 1878 (130 YEARS AGO) (CONTINUED)

William Boyd Allison served as a Senator from Iowa from 1873 to 1908 and is best remembered as the co sponsor of the Bland-Allison Silver Act of 1878. The law was passed over President Rutherford B. Hayes' veto in response to the coinage Act of 1873 which discontinued the coinage of the US silver dollar causing the price of silver to drop drastically on the world market. A five year recession resulted. With the passage of the new law it was hoped that the debts of the western silver miners and farmers would be alleviated.

William B. Allison

Richard P. Bland

Richard Parks Bland, (D-MO) was a former school teacher who became interested in mining while teaching in the Nevada territory. He studied law and passed the bar, later returning to Missouri. He was elected to the House of Representatives in 1872 and with Allison (R-IA), co-sponsored the Act which bears their names in the interest of helping “the common man” and silver miners who had become over extended due to the coinage Act of 1873.

Origin of the Morgan Dollar Design

George Morgan was Assistant Engraver to Charles Barber in 1877 when he was asked to prepare patterns for a half dollar coin. He persuaded an attractive young school teacher and former art student named Anna Williams to pose for Miss Liberty. In those times the rich and wellborn who personified the upper echelons of high society in urban America considered female models as rather undignified. A school teacher caught in such an uncompromising pose could meet with disastrous consequences. The settings would take place in secrecy at the home of renowned Philadelphia painter Thomas Eakens, whose paintings can be seen today in the Philadelphia Museum of Art. If anyone later inquired as to the source of the portrait they would be told that it was borrowed from a classical Greek figured housed in the Museum. Miss Williams sat for Morgan at five different sessions. The first appearance of the new design was featured on a number of half dollar patterns dated 1877. When silver dollar coinage was ordered to resume as a result of the Bland Allison Act, Morgan placed Miss Williams' stylized Miss Liberty on the new dollar. The coin went into circulation yet nothing happened, at least right away, but in 1879 a Philadelphia newspaper reporter recognized Miss Williams as the school teacher on the coin and wrote an article calling her "the Silver dollar girl". Poor Miss Williams! As a teacher of primary school age children, she was summarily ordered to appear before the school board and was later dismissed for her actions; her life virtually ruined in a sea of gossip and humiliation. The tragic tale was later published as a monograph by Walter Breen and Jules Turoff in a 1971 publication entitled, "To Marry a Goddess". One of our most majestic and popular collectible coins in U.S. History had started in tragedy.

Anna Williams

George Morgan with dollar

THE BIRTH OF THE MORGAN DOLLAR: 1878 (130 YEARS AGO) (CONTINUED)

The story above by Breen and Turoff appeared back in the early 1970's but recently published articles by Tom LaMarre, "The Goddess of the Dollar" Coins Magazine, May, 2007 and Gary Eggleston, BellaOnline: "The Voice of Women" has cast some doubts on its authenticity. Actually, after the Philadelphia reporter's story broke, Anna Williams's supposed notoriety brought her much fame and idolatry although she supposedly eschewed the fortune that could have come from it all. While she may have lost her teaching job shortly after, she had little difficulty getting teaching positions later on. According to one of George Morgan's daughters, no one actually sat for the dollar portrait. Other stories have Charles Barber using the same facial features reversed from Morgan's model for his Liberty nickel (1883-1912) and Liberty Head silver coinage (1892-1916). Finally, the 1879-1880 $4.00 Coiled Hair pattern Stellas designed by Morgan display a visage looking very much like Anna Williams' portrait shown above, so the jury is still out regarding all the anecdotes regarding the origin of arguably our most popular numismatic collectible.

An 1879 Coiled Hair $4.00 Gold Stella graded Proof-63 by NGC.
(Courtesy of Heritage Auction Archives) [Magnify to 200% to see details.]

For collectors like me who enjoy pairing transitional dates, one can acquire a Trade $1.00 dated 1878-S that has a mintage of over 4 million and is relatively inexpensive in AU-58. It would be the last year the type was struck in large numbers issued for circulation as it was struck in proof only in small number from 1879-1885.

An 1878-S Trade $1.00 graded AU-58 by PCGS

And so, with the pairing of the 1878-S Trade and Morgan dollars, 1878 was an eventful coinage year some 130 years ago.

LINCOLN CENT REDESIGN

FROM: U.S. MINT WEBSITE

A Penny Redesign...Coming in 2009!

In 2009, the United States Mint will mint and issue four different one-cent coins in recognition of the bicentennial of Abraham Lincoln's birth and the 100th anniversary of the production of the Lincoln cent. While the obverse will continue to bear the likeness of President Lincoln currently on the penny, the reverse will change to bear four different designs, each representing a different aspect of the life of Abraham Lincoln.

The themes for the reverse designs represent the four major aspects of Abraham Lincoln's life, as outlined in Public Law 109-145.

- Lincoln's Birth in Kentucky (1809-1816)
- Formative Years in Indiana (1816-1830)
- Professional Life in Illinois (1830-1861)
- Presidency in Washington, DC (1861-1865)

A new design will be issued approximately every 3 months in 2009. The designs for the coins will be chosen by the Secretary of the Treasury after consultation with the Abraham Lincoln Bicentennial Commission and the Commission of Fine Arts, and after review by the Citizens Coinage Advisory Committee.

Reverse inscriptions will continue to include "United States of America," "E Pluribus Unum," and "One Cent." The 2009 Abraham Lincoln one-cent coins will maintain the same metal content (2.5% Copper, Balance Zinc) and other specifications as the current penny.

These coins will be issued for circulation in quantities to meet the needs of the United States—both for commerce and for collectors. In addition, the Secretary of the Treasury has the authority to mint and issue numismatic one-cent coins in 2009 with the exact metallic content as contained in the 1909 one-cent coin (95% Copper, 5% Tin and Zinc). These numismatic versions will be included in the United States Mint's annual product offerings.

At the conclusion of the 2009 Lincoln One-cent Redesign Program, the 2010 (and beyond) one-cent coin will feature a reverse design that will be emblematic of President Lincoln's preservation of the United States of America as a single and united country.

LOW COUNTRY COIN CLUB

The Low Country Coin Club of the greater Charleston area hosted its annual Summer Coin Show on August 8th, 9th and 10th at the Exchange Park Fairgrounds in Ladson.

The next show is at the same location on February 6th, 7th and 8th, 2009. The shows have always been free to the public and that should continue. Customers were asked to show identification at the door and sign in to record attendance and to obtain email or street addresses for those who requested notification of upcoming shows. The club expects to be sending out over 500 customer postcards and emails for the LCCC Winter Show.

The club also has a new website, www.lowcountrycoinclub.com.

PARKER COIN CLUB

In February, The Parker Coin Club moved to the new Greenville Technical College Northwest Campus located at 8109 White Horse Road in Greenville. The staff of Greenville Tech has been very accommodating, and the Club owes a lot of thanks to Natasha Sparman for coordinating the transition and graciously providing for the Club's needs.

The Club held its Spring Dinner May 22 at the Silver Bay Restaurant with 58 members and guests in attendance. Mike McClure was present and was the lucky recipient of a GSA BU Carson City Dollar.

Also in May the Club launched a website for our Club at www.parkercoinclub.org. The website was designed by one of the members, Curt Colburn. Curt has been extremely helpful with this endeavor and has done an excellent job. This is still a "work in progress" and will have future enhancements that Curt is helping with.

The Club continues to flourish, and there are exactly 100 members on the roster. The new president, Ginnie White, has done an excellent job at the helm and has utilized her business skills (she is a Realtor) to the benefit of the Club.

MIDLANDS COIN CLUB (COLUMBIA)

The Midlands Coin Club recently placed an exhibit in the Irmo Branch of the Lexington County Library system. The theme of the exhibit was "Coins Tell a Story". Several coins were on display, primarily inexpensive items, with enlarged photographs and scanned images substituting for more expensive coins and notes. Each item was accompanied with a description of the item and some interesting information about it. Also included in the exhibit was information on the basics of coin collecting, the ANA, the SCNA, and the Midlands Coin Club itself.

Coordinating the project were members Jimmy Boland and Ralph Ford. Other members contributing their materials or efforts to the exhibit include Ralph Mulkins, Tony Chibbaro, and Bill Malinowski. The exhibit will be back in the Irmo Library for the entire month of October in anticipation of the club's fall show, planned for November 1. Future possibilities discussed for the exhibit include travelling to other libraries, schools, community centers, or financial institutions.

MYRTLE BEACH COIN CLUB

The Myrtle Beach Coin Club has moved its meetings from the Socastee Library to the Myrtle Beach Outdoor Motor Club, 886 Folly Road, Myrtle Beach. The new meeting location is just a few miles from the library and is on the Intra Coastal Waterway. The move was necessary because the club is outgrowing the available meeting room space in the library. The change also allows club members to trade, sell and auction numismatic material. These activities are normal at coin club functions, but are not permitted within the library.

With the change in meeting location, the club held an auction on June 3, the inaugural meeting at the new site. An auction may become a regular club activity.

The Myrtle Beach Coin Club meets the first Tuesday of each month, year round. Its members are hobbyists who collect a wide variety of numismatic material, including coins, paper money, tokens, medals, literature and other items. Meetings are open to guests and are free, are informal and offer an opportunity for new collectors to learn more about their numismatic material.

At each meeting those in attendance can show and discuss pieces from their collections. Meetings also feature a “theme”, where people bring in material of a particular type and discuss it. Past themes have included South Carolina Numismatics, Toned Coins, Five Cent Pieces, Numismatic Books, Bust Coins, Morgan Dollars, Gold, and Engraved Coins. “My Favorite Seated Liberty Coin(s) was the Theme for the June 3rd meeting.

CSA & OBSOLETE NOTES ARE MY BUSINESS!!

I have been a full-time dealer in Confederate and obsolete currency for over 30 years. I've helped many collectors assemble complete CSA type sets as well as find rare varieties. I've also helped hundreds of collectors with their obsolete note interests from rare to common. My catalogs are well known in both the dealer and collector fields for their reference value. If you are a serious collector of CSA notes, bonds or obsolete bank notes, I can offer you the following:

1. Thousands of bank notes in the Confederate and obsolete areas.
2. Accurate descriptions, grading and fair prices.
3. Reliable dealings with prompt and friendly service.
4. The knowledge and research capabilities to properly attribute these notes.
5. A want list service that has helped many find notes which they could not locate.
6. Top prices when buying one note or an entire collection. If you are selling, I want to buy your notes!
7. The respect and integrity of dealings that are well known in the hobby.
8. Representation to bid for clients at major auctions.
9. Paying finder's fees on collections referred to me.
10. Appraisal services for reasonable fees.
11. Institutional and museum services for note authentication and valuations.
12. Strong cash decisions and immediate payment for your material.

If you collect, I offer my latest edition 60 page catalog for $5.00, refundable on first order. It features one of the largest CSA note inventories available, an extensive obsolete and scrip section, uncut sheets of notes, U.S. fractional notes, a Continental and colonial section and a reference book section. Whether you are buying or selling, I would be pleased to have you contact me.
